Mrs. Madsen Found Guilty of Murder

Brooklyn-Born Mother Is Sentenced to 15 Years for Slaying Husband

Frankfurt, Germany, March 18 (AP)—Mrs. Yvette Madsen of Brooklyn was convicted today of murdering her air force husband and was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment.

The beautiful, 22-year-old mother of two stood pale but erect as a three-judge American occupation court handed down its verdict, finding her guilty of the deliberate "treacherous" murder of Lt. Andrew E. Madsen of Oakland, Calif., after a gay party last Oct. 20.

The court rejected a defense plea that Mrs. Madsen was temporarily insane at the time. The prosecution contended that her husband, Lt. Andrew E. Madsen of Oakland, Calif., was slain as the climax of an argument with another officer at the party on the relative merits of the southern drawl vs. Mrs. Madsen's Brooklyn accent.

The court reached its decision after 24 hours of deliberation. The trial lasted seven days and was marked by several emotional outbursts on the part of Mrs. Madsen, during one of which she screamed: "I don't care if you want to hang me, I don't care. But make him stop."

She was referring to the testimony of a defense witness, Dr. Karl Kiesel, a German psychiatrist, who testified she had a psychopathic personality and was under a delusion of persecution the night she shot her husband.

Mrs. Madsen stood pale but erect to hear the verdict, then slumped slowly into her seat with her dark eyes closed but still conscious.

She took the verdict with much more calm than she had shown throughout her trial.

Johnson Calls Defense Plans Against Atom Attack Waste

Washington, March 18 (AP)—Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said today a vast civil defense organization against atomic attack is not only unnecessary at this time but might even prove harmful.

The Colorado senator, a member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, spoke out against "needless alarm and waste" at a time when there is no immediate threat of war.

He told a reporter the government should work out detailed civil defense plans, and a program should be ready for operation "whenever there is real danger."

But he insisted such a program at this time would only confuse the public and give cities a false sense of security.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said, however, that the Atomic Energy Commission must find a way to take state and municipal Minists from each of four districts will compete for conference honors at the annual conference session of the Methodist Church in New York during May. The subject in each case will be some phase of the history of the New York Conference.

Other contests are being sponsored simultaneously throughout the conference area under the direction of a historical committee as part of the observance of the 150th anniversary of the conference.

All contests are open to the general public.

WHUZZIS?—Is this a surrealist puzzle? Some kind of nuclear reaction? An ultra-modern tunnel? Maybe a microscopic view of an atom's interior? No. This is an inside view of the Duchi D'Asta Hotel in Sestriere, Italy, a winter resort. Built like a circular tower, the famous landmark has a 1700-foot spiral ramp inside, accounting for the light circles.

HOME OF THE WEEK: "The Rumford." This is a straightforward treatment of a popular style. Thanks to the hipped roof, there are no sloping ceilings.

Full-Size Upstairs Rooms Are Attractive Feature

Square Design With Hip Roof Popular in New England

An ever popular style for homes in New England is the square, full two-story, hip-roofed house that permits full-height ceilings in all the upstairs rooms. Such a dwelling is "The Rumford," which is introduced today by the Home-of-the-Week Plan Service.

This 4-bedroom house measures 32x25 feet and in most communities, could be built on a lot with a 50-foot frontage. Its cubage is 24,400 feet.

A feature of the house not shown in the accompanying illustration is a 12x8-foot piazza on the rear, finished off with a sun deck roof, accessible through a French door from one of the upstairs bedrooms. The first-floor piazza, screened in, would make a delightful summer dining room.

Has Large Entry. This latticed and copper-canopied central entrance opens with a generous-sized entry and stair hall. A coat closet is at the left of the stairs. An archway on the same side opens on the dining room.

The 24-12-foot living room, has its principal features a fireplace, centered in the long outside wall, and built-in bookcases which flank French doors opening on the piazza on the rear of the house. Balancing the archway from the entry hall, a door opens on a rear hallway that passes the lavette, a storage closet and the cellar stairway before reaching the kitchen.

The kitchen, measuring 12x11 1/2 feet, is well planned and provides space for a breakfast corner, set apart from the rest of the room by a round counter. Between this counter and a broom closet is a refrigerator recess. Between the broom closet and the L-shaped sink and working counter is the door to the service entry. The stove backs against the wall between kitchen and dining room. A swinging door connects these rooms.

The dining room is 12-feet square, with windows on two exposures and built-in china cabinets in two corners.

U-Shaped Hall Upstairs. On the second floor, a U-shaped hall at the head of the stairs connects with all upstairs rooms. A large clothes closet and a linen closet open off the hall.

The master bedroom, above the dining room, measures 12x12 feet and has a novel dressing alcove, lighted by the oriole window over the canopied front entrance. The inside wall of this alcove is filled with a double wardrobe. Additional storage facilities are provided by a closet in the main portion of the bedroom.

The other front bedroom also measures 12x12 feet, has a large clothes closet but lacks the dressing alcove and wardrobes that are features of the master bedroom. The rear bedroom measures 12x9 1/2 feet, and 9 1/2x8 feet, respectively. The bathroom is located between the rear bedroom, opening off the hall. The bath also has its own storage closet.

The house has a full cellar, with placement of heating system and laundry equipment under the living room. The remainder of the basement could be partitioned off into a large recreation room if desired.

This house should have insulation in the side walls and over all second-floor ceilings. A forced hot-water heating system is recommended by the architect, who also suggests that a preferred location would be one that permits the house to face from southeast to southwest.

Complete plans and specifications for "The Rumford" and other houses in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact prices of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y., and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

How to Refinish Glossy Surfaces

When refinishing glossy or enameled surfaces, they should be rubbed with steel wool or very fine sandpaper to dull the old finish, assuming that it is not cracked or chipped, to provide a "tooth" for the new finish.

If the old finish is scratched or chipped, it should be removed with paint and varnish remover, obtainable from paint dealers, and the residue cleaned off with turpentine or benzine. The surface should then be rinsed with clean water and allowed to dry thoroughly before refinishing.

If enamel is to be used, at least two coats should be applied, the first coat being a flat undercoat and the second coat a gloss or semi-gloss enamel, or an "egg-shell" finish, as preferred.

Painting New Wood

On new wood, a priming coat must first be used to fill the pores. If this is not done, the many pores will absorb the oil from the paint and leave the upper coat with rapidly dulling spots. The priming coat must have plenty of raw linseed oil to fill these pores. A second coat to establish a smooth non-absorbent ground for the last coat is advisable.

Let Plaster Dry

Newly plastered walls should stand from eight to ten weeks before being painted or papered and even longer if the weather proves damp.

Wiser to Skip Gadgets Than Cut Size of House

No matter what size house you are going to build, sooner or later you will be faced with the problem of "cutting the cost." It is better to make savings in small items than to reduce the size of the house. Space is more important than fine finish, built-in improvements and gadgets.

Here are a few suggestions as to how you may "cut" the house which has turned out to exceed your budget.

For screen savings use the galvanized half-window length kind. You get such a lot for your money.

There is such a thing as a magazine-feed boiler... worth investigating if you are economically minded and will be burning coal to heat your house.

Plain Window Glass Saves

Plate glass is expensive. Consider using plain window glass. Nine-tenths of the world won't know the difference.

If you have a dry... use concrete blocks instead of poured cement foundation. Another saving.

Good wood-frame construction is cheaper than stone or masonry. It will last as long as you live... and longer.

Wood shingles cost less than heavier roofings and the house does not have to be so heavily built to support a shingle roof.

Locate the fireplace so that the chimney serving your heating plant will also carry the fireplace flue.

On the second floor insulate only the ceilings... bedrooms require less heat than living quarters.

Short Lengths for Floors

Floors offer an opportunity for real savings. There's a lot in the finishing... and many of the best examples of fine homes today are floored with short lengths which take beautiful finishes.

Stairs are economical built between partitions. Eliminate gingerbread trimming on the exterior of the house. Keep it simple and let the proportions of the building make it beautiful, not the fretwork.

Dear to the heart... and the pocketbook... are recessed radiators. Maybe this is one place to sacrifice preference for economy. You can always have them built in later.

Tip on Finishing Rough plaster left gray makes an interesting wall texture. Or you can finish-plaster a spare room and leave the floor laying for later on.

Siding for the outside of the house comes at various prices. Some of the best looking are the least expensive.

If you're burning coal now, but some day hope to have automatic heat, you can most economically wire for the thermostat while the house is being built.

Simplicity Aim in Small House

Simplicity should be the governing factor in small-home planning, as excess maintenance costs caused by bad design add additional burdens.

This does not imply that the small house must be an unsightly box, small homes can be built to afford adequate living accommodations at a minimum cost when poor-design factors are avoided.

Citing the pure simplicity of the Williamsburg and Cape Cod types, officials point to their straightforward and honest design and lack of false fronts to detract from their inherent dignity and character.

Symmetry in architectural details should be subordinated to honesty in small-home architecture, as a desire for symmetry frequently results in complicated construction problems which add considerably to the total cost of the home.

Regular Check Of Home Urged

Many of the inconveniences and discomforts experienced in the household may be avoided if home owners would abandon the policy of giving their homes attention only when acute trouble, such as a leaky roof or burst pipe, demands it.

Builders declare that it is neither wise nor safe to wait until something breaks or gives way completely, and that such troubles should be anticipated by making regular inspections and applying remedies where needed.

The house may be inspected by members of the family owning or occupying it, who are often aware of some of its defects and inconveniences, or by an experienced workman whose knowledge and skill should enable him to discover defects not apparent to the average householder.

Spring is one of the best times of the year to make repairs.

Screened Porch Easy, Inexpensive to Build

One of the great American institutions is the screened porch. Screens are so easy to make, and so inexpensive, that every home should have at least one screened porch.

Consult your contractor or lumber dealer and find out just what type of porch you can have built for the money you wish to spend.

Possibly you can serve in a portion of your present porch, if it is a large one, and that may answer for the time being.

Dry Before Painting When painting red cedar or redwood siding, ample time should be allowed to permit the wood to dry out before applying the primer coat. The primer should be most effective, should consist of three coats of pure white lead and oil or a high quality mixed paint should be specified.

Basementless House In houses without basements it is sometimes a problem to protect the floors against infiltration of cold. One solution is to lay insulating boards, the same kind that are used on walls, under the flooring. It is also possible to use insulating blankets, etc., under or between joists. This eliminates difficulty sometimes encountered in nailing through the insulating boards to the joists.

Smart Families Are Choosing the New THOR Automagic Sink....

- Because it enabled us to gain 100 square feet of living space when we built our home... gave us a finer, more livable room arrangement.
- Because it permitted us to plan a modern, completely efficient work center instead of just another kitchen.
- Because it "dicks away" two of home-making's most laborious and time-taking tasks — washing clothes and washing dishes.
- Because it eliminates trudging up and down the basement stairs on washday... and no more messy rinsing in old-fashioned laundry tubs.
- Because the total cost of the Thor Sink — combining clothes and dish washer — was so much less than buying and installing a clothes washer, a dish washer and a sink as separate units.

Against Communies

New York, March 18 (AP)—Members of the A.F.I. International Ladies Garment Workers Union are voting 98 per cent anti-Communist in local elections across the country. A spokesman for the union, President David Dubinsky, said last night that there is about the same small amount of Communist opposition to his administration as in the 1947 election. More than 400 I.L.G.W.U. locals are choosing officers and delegates to the May 23 national convention. New York locals, where the Communist vote is stronger, reported a higher proportion of non-Communist votes than three years ago, the union said.

Predicts Severe Cold

Washington, March 18 (AP)—The Weather Bureau predicts unusual cold for the eastern two-thirds of the country during the coming month. In the latest of a series of experimental monthly forecasts, Jerome Namias, chief of the bureau's extended forecast section, said temperatures are expected to be below normal for the next three months. Rainfall is expected to be heavier than usual for the southern, central, southeastern and northwestern sections of the country, and about normal elsewhere.

Telephone Deadlock

New York, March 18 (AP)—Critical telephone wage negotiations that reopened only yesterday were back at a deadlock today. Talks between the Western Electric Co., one of the major subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and Division 6 of the C.I.O. Communications Workers of America were broken yesterday afternoon after a day's session. Despite yesterday's unfavorable developments, Federal Mediator William N. Margolis said he hoped to get the parties together again next week.

Wide Search Started

Miami, Fla., March 18 (AP)—A widespread aerial search for a New Yorker missing in a rented seaplane was launched at dawn today. Ed Maynard, a 45-year-old visitor from Mineola, N. Y., has been missing on a flight from Everglades City since early yesterday morning. He was flying a blue and yellow J-3 Cub rented from George Hayman of Everglades City. Maynard and his wife have been visiting in Miami for the past two weeks. Coast guard and private planes planned to join the search.

THE ARMY'S WOODS

Are army officers' sons more likely to follow their fathers' profession than the sons of other men? It sometimes seems so. Many leading officers of today have sons who are following in their fathers' footsteps, and the newspapers reveal almost every day the death of some officer whose father had the same lifework.

A recent instance is that of the late Osborne C. Wood, who served in the Regular Army until 1924. Resigning then, he joined the New Mexico National Guard, rising to the rank of brigadier-general. He fell short of the heights attained by his father, General Leonard Wood, one of the most controversial figures in the history of the Army.

Originally an Army doctor, Leonard Wood served in the Spanish-American War as colonel of the Rough Rider regiment of which Theodore Roosevelt was lieutenant-colonel. His own talents, combined with Roosevelt's favor, enabled him to rise to the position of chief of staff. He might have expected to head the expeditionary force to France in the First World War, but lost the place to General John J. Pershing. He came near being nominated for president at the 1920 Republican convention, and then served as governor-general of the Philippines until his death in 1927.

In 1950 the Post Office Department will lose 500 million dollars on its operations. That was the cost of the entire federal government in McKinley's time. The Hoover Commission recommends business-like procedures that will wipe out this Post Office deficit. Taxpayers may join the New York State Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report by writing to the committee at Syracuse, N. Y.

COLD IS COLD

Cold is cold wherever you find it. The military maneuvers conducted in Alaska by the United States and Canada jointly call attention to living and working problems created by the intensely low temperatures. Participants in the maneuvers agree that life is tolerable down to 40 degrees below zero. Men and machines both function. Below that point every drop of a degree is an added torment.

This comment in practically the same words was made about the Antarctic by Apsley Cherry-Garrard, a British naturalist. Appropriately enough, he called his narrative "The Worst Journey in the World".

The soldiers who have experienced the bleak winter winds of Alaska will say, "Brother, we've got just as bad a journey up here".

Joseph W. Ellms is dead. A national authority on water purification and sewage treatment, he directed this work for Cleveland for 30 years. The author of a standard manual on water purification, he received in 1940 a medal from the American Society of Civil Engineers for his work along this line.

OMISSION OF AN ART

At last, a subject has been found which apparently is not taught by any American college or university. The omitted field unfortunately is more important than some for which our higher institutions of learning find place. It is training for book design. This deficiency was pointed out by Donald Klopfer of a New York publishing house at a recent celebration of New England Printing and Publishing Week.

The omission is curious. Some fine books appear in this country, equal in type design and arrangement on the page, in illustrations and binding, to any published abroad. One book designer, Bruce Rogers, ranks with the great of all time. Yet anyone wishing to follow him must pick up the art by himself or by observation of others; our colleges and universities offer no specific training.

One would expect to find such courses in the great art schools as well as in the arts divisions of university curricula. Here is an idea for some benefactor who wants to endow a chair in a combination of the fine

BIRDS OF A FEATHER

Guilt by association is an ugly doctrine. Among some primitive peoples, if one member of a family were accused of a crime, every member of the family is held accountable. In some schools, teachers still hold an entire class responsible for the conduct of one pupil, which is a form of socializing guilt repugnant to our way of life which is based on individual responsibility.

However, the term, "guilt by association," as it is currently being used, is something quite different. What we do is to follow the old adage, "birds of a feather flock together." We go back to the proved sociological postulate that where there is a community of kind, there is likely to be an association of those who have similar tastes. When, therefore, a person appears on a large number of Communist or Communist-front activities, the assumption must be that that person has made a voluntary choice to associate with such people and their activities.

Take, for instance, the case of Dorothy Kenyon. The lady says that she is not a Communist and has never been one. We must take her word for that. But how shall this record be explained?

1. The American Committee for Democracy and Intellectual Freedom petitioned to discontinue the Dies Committee. This organization existed to defend Communists from investigation; Dorothy Kenyon appears among the signatories.

2. American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born has been officially declared subversive. This organization was established by the Communist Party and has been closely linked to the International Labor Defense (also listed as subversive); Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

3. In 1944, a number of American women of distinction sent greetings to the Women of Soviet Russia. (We were then allied in war.) Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

4. From 1934 to 1941, one of the principal transmission belts of communism in this country was the American Youth Congress. Dorothy Kenyon appeared there.

5. Earl Browder, testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in September, 1939, described the Consumers National Federation as a Communist transmission belt Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

6. The Coordinating Committee to lift the embargo was a Communist front organized to aid Soviet Russia's efforts in the Spanish civil war. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

7. The Council for Pan-American Democracy was organized and supported publicly by the Communist parties of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Chile, Cuba and Venezuela. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

8. Descendants of the American Revolution was designed to be a left-wing organization to compete with an article, the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

9. A group of organizations came into being to bring pressures on the motion picture producers to produce pro-Russian and pro-Communist films. The most active was "Film Audiences for Democracy." Dorothy Kenyon appeared on the advisory board.

10. Simon W. Gerson, an active and admitted Communist, was given public office by the borough president of Manhattan in New York city. This led to an active protest. A committee was formed to defend Gerson. Dorothy Kenyon appeared on that committee as representing the Consumers Union.

11. The Lawyers Committee on American Relations with Spain was on the Communist side of the Spanish revolution. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

12. League of Women Shoppers has been declared a Communist-front by the House Committee on Un-American Activities after prolonged investigation. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

13. The National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, successor to Friends of the Soviet Union, has been officially declared subversive. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

14. For many years in "The New York Times" a fund was used to raise money for the Communist Party. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared on the New York Times Money Committee.

15. Political Prisoners Bail Fund Committee was organized to aid arrested Communists and Left-Wingers. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

16. Morris U. Schappes, an admitted Communist, was tried in a court for perjury and convicted. The Schappes Defense Committee was organized for him. Dorothy Kenyon's name appeared there.

I have cited these examples to show a pattern of activity. This pattern does not necessarily make Miss Kenyon a Communist, but it does, in my opinion, open to question her judgment and her associations. In the present war between this country and Soviet Russia, the constant association, for whatever reason, must stimulate concern.

A NEW TREATMENT FOR SHINGLES

Although herpes zoster (shingles) is believed to be due to a tiny organism, pain and itching—the outstanding symptoms—are about all most physicians think about and try to treat. This is because the physician knows that shingles will run its course despite any or all forms of treatment and all that can be done is to try to relieve the pain and itching. In addition, the eruption is usually protected in various ways and the patient warned not to scratch the eruption. It is the complications caused by scratching that prolong an attack of shingles for months instead of the three or four weeks of a regular attack.

In "The Journal of the American Medical Association," Drs. M. L. Binder and L. E. Stubbs, Newport News, Va., state that the treatment of herpes zoster in the past has been unsatisfactory at best. These physicians mention the various methods in general use to protect the patient from infection and obtain relief from itching and pain. Despite all these methods of treatment, there are many cases in which the patients do not obtain any relief and the affliction runs its natural course.

One of the methods which seemed to be of help was X-rays in filtered doses to the posterior nerve root affected, as irritation of nerve root is the underlying condition present. Drs. Binder and Stubbs state that a colleague reported to them that a patient in whom herpes zoster had developed was being given X-ray treatment. At the same time another condition developed in the patient for which the new wonder drug, aureomycin, was administered. There was dramatic relief of the herpes zoster within 24 hours of the time aureomycin treatment was started. Accordingly, Drs. Binder and Stubbs administered 500 mg of aureomycin every 6 hours for two days to 4 patients. Dramatic results were obtained in 3 cases and good results in the fourth case. The rash disappeared within 4 to 7 days in all four cases.

These physicians submit this report in the hope that further investigation by others will produce equally good results.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—A forgotten hero of the Revolutionary War, an unspectacular money lender, will soon be immortalized not far from Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson. He was Haym Solomon, the little Jewish patriot who raised the money to fight the revolution but died penniless without ever receiving a dime back from the government whose freedom he financed.

Now, after all these years, a memorial is about to be erected in Solomon's honor. This was authorized by Congress 12 years ago upon a motion by Guy Gillette, then congressman but now senator from Iowa.

It was left up to private citizens, however, to raise the subscriptions, so the project lay dormant until this year. Now a Haym Solomon Memorial Society has been formed to raise the money, and the chief thing remaining is to have the Commission of Fine Arts approve a design.

Note—At one time George Washington pulled Solomon out of a synagogues to scrape up the cash to meet the army payroll. Solomon also paid Jefferson's and Madison's board bills so they could attend the first Continental Congress.

Senator on Rampage
Stormiest figure on Capitol Hill is North Dakota's fearless senator "Wild Bill" Langer who roars at the Senate like an enraged bull moose, is not afraid of the political odds and kicks his heels at Senate tradition.

No one can predict what Langer will do next, but the Democrats are still burned up over his latest surprise. Out of the clear blue, Langer recessed the Senate the other day right in the middle of its proceedings.

Since the Democrats are steering the Senate, it is Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois who is supposed to set the quitting time—not Langer, who is a lone-wolf Republican. For a moment, however, not a Democrat was on the floor. And Langer, glancing in both directions, saw his chance to move for a recess. As no one objected, there was nothing the presiding officer could do but recess the Senate.

As the bells rang out this news, Lucas stormed into the Senate chamber where Langer was grinning like a boy who had let school out early. Ignoring Langer, Lucas marched up to Senator Pat McCarran, Nevada Democrat, who had just poked his head in the door to see what was happening. As judiciary chairman, McCarran was in charge of the pending legislation, and it was his responsibility to keep a watch on it.

"I have told you at least six times that you should have somebody on the floor at all times to watch this," Lucas stormed at McCarran. "Your committee is in charge of this legislation."

"Don't you think it would be a good idea if we had a majority leader present once in awhile?" McCarran snorted back.

Angrily, Lucas stalked off. "I guess I'll have to sit here 24 hours a day," he muttered.

Tongue-Lashing
Lucas waited until the next day to give Langer a scolding.

"While I know my friend from North Dakota has voted quite often with senators on this (the Democratic) side of the aisle," he said, "and I think it was Mr. Drew Pearson who said the senator would become a Democrat—I did not know that he had gone quite so far as to try to take over the majority leadership of the Senate."

"I think it will be regrettable if the time comes when a senator cannot indulge in a bit of frivolity, or take a nod or a wink or perhaps have his attention distracted by some newspaperman in the hall, without some other senator taking advantage of his absence."

"I know from previous experience," continued Lucas, "that the senator from North Dakota frequently conceals himself in a parliamentary bush, and at the proper time strikes out with the sharp edge of the wedge. (but) I do not want to be ambushed any more by my friend from North Dakota."

Fantastic Soviet Radio
The American Embassy staff listening to the radio in Moscow hears a fantastic story about what goes on in the U.S.A.

The radio report gives a version of life in the United States which the Kremlin hopes the Russian people will believe. Here are a few samples:

"In the American towns, one man in seven is starving, and three-quarters of the population do not make a minimum income and cannot make ends meet."

The position of the unemployed is most ghastly. Millions of Americans are leading an impoverished life, wandering about on the roads of the United States. Only the rich can afford proper medical care in the United States. Enormous unemployment, stark misery and the specter of hunger compel thousands of Americans to travel up and down the country all the time to find occasionally some menial work."

This is an accurate sample of Soviet broadcasting as picked up by American interceptors.

Inside story behind this fantasy is that the Kremlin is desperately trying to take the minds of the Russian people off their own low standard of living and create distrust of the fabulous United States.

Even with the Soviet's new price cuts, the Russian worker must labor 117 hours before he can buy a pair of shoes that would cost $5, or the equivalent of half a day's work by an American workman. Low-grade stewing beef that costs 19 cents a pound in an American chain store goes for $5 a pound in the Soviet—above the reach of the low and middle classes.

Other price comparisons are: A mens suit that sells for $27 in the U. S. costs $27.25 in the Soviet; a woman's dress, $33 here and $111 there; a table radio $38.95 here and $272 there; women's shoes, $5 here and $67.50 there; and a wrist watch, $30 here and $100 there.

Ironically, in this Soviet "workers' Utopia," a loaf of black bread, the staple of life, still costs 2 1/2 times what it did in 1940, though luxury items like caviar and good vodka have dropped to prewar price levels.

Footnotes on shoes with proper fit

More battery and greater comfort are promised when shoes are selected to suit foot type as this girl does. Close-ups show typical examples of new styles recommended for the four basic types of feet.

Ever been stuck with a pair of new shoes that looked wonderful but hurt your feet after a few hours wear? If you have, chances are you bought shoes "to fit the eye" instead of your foot. It's common feminine falling, foot specialists say.

With so many styles to choose from, you can find shoes that are both smart and comfortable if you stick to the last that suits your foot. The specialists classify foot types as high instep, low instep, long and narrow, short and plump.

If your foot has a high arch, you won't be happy in high-cut pumps that pinch delicate instep nerves and restrict circulation. Better choice for you, according to podiatrists, are low-cut models which leave the instep free of constrict-ing bindings. The d'Orsay pump, shell shoe, open sandals are good designs for this foot type. Look for a snug heel fit to make up for the lack of shoe in front.

On the other hand, if you have low-arched feet, you'll find high-walled slippers or one-strap sandals more comfortable than the foot. The specialists classify foot types as high instep, low instep, long and narrow, short and plump.

Music Group Hears Talk on Growth Of Sonata Form

The Music Appreciation Group of the Y.W.C.A. discussed the musical form sonata allegro at their meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Harry Reppert, 169 Manor avenue.

The top was presented by Mrs. Harry Smith and Mrs. Earl Schoonmaker.

Mrs. Smith said the sonata—an extended musical composition for one or two instruments, usually in three or four movements—was the result of the evolution of musical instruments and culminated more than 200 years of experimentation.

The symphony, which was written for full orchestra, is an outgrowth of the sonata allegro form, called "the greatest art form in music," commonly chosen for the first and often for the last movement of a symphony. It represents the union of the principal and subordinate themes, and embraces three large divisions—the exposition, development and recapitulation, to which is often added the coda.

Other works founded on the sonata form are the overture, concerto, string quartet and quintet, Mrs. Smith said.

She played a recording of two movements from a Haydn sonata.

Mrs. Schoonmaker spoke of the contributions of Mozart, who was Haydn's pupil and of Beethoven, who played recordings of Mozart's Concerto in A Major for piano and orchestra, and one of his sonatas, in the theme-and-variation form.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Harold Olsen of New York city, and Edgar Kneeder, representative of Columbia Artists. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. J. Holsman and Mrs. John B. Senterly. Mrs. Boyd N. Williams, assisted.

Next meeting will be March 30 at the home of Miss Florence Corliss, 132 Lindsley avenue.

Elementary School News

Mrs. Weber's room in School 7 has completed a county fair project. This activity was interrupted by the month of St. Patrick's Day and the Irish being great people for county fairs, the children made a real fair booth stock, people and balloons. Dances and Irish music climaxed the fair on St. Patrick's Day, under the direction of the music committee.

Using the new opaque projector which throws an picture on the screen greatly enlarged Raymond Van Valkenburg, principal of School 4, has given illustrated lectures on winter birds to grades 5, 6 and 7. Pictures of the chickadee, nut, hatched, woodpecker, hairy woodpecker, and other common winter birds, as well as the beautiful rare evening grosbeak, which are now visiting this area, were shown and studied. Children were interested in the bird talks and asked many questions. They were surprised to learn that there were so many interesting bird friends right in their own yards during the winter.

The Book-of-the-Month Club of Miss Decker's fourth grade at School 3 with Victor Cohen as chairman has purchased their third of the Golden Book Series. The new have the Animal Book, the Christmas Book and the Golden Dictionary. Through this project they have learned that the systematic savings of small amounts of each week can produce satisfactory results. This sum is to be earned if possible. This activity was interrupted by the month of St. Patrick's Day and the Irish being great people for county fairs, the children made a real fair booth stock, people and balloons. Dances and Irish music climaxed the fair on St. Patrick's Day, under the direction of the music committee.

The pupils in Miss Mellett's fourth grade at School 2 have made a miniature farm in one corner of the classroom. This was done in connection with a farm unit they developed in their social studies class.

The fourth grade at School 7 has been putting on a program in connection with the study of their farm unit. The boys and girls in Miss Meyer's room told of their farm chores, their fun at play, the work of the 4-H Clubs, and the farm machinery which help the farmer. To close the program the children sang a farm song and did a dance. Chicken corn candy was given to the visitors.

The fourth grade of School 3 is completing its visit with the Navajo Indians of southwestern United States. By means of a large mural, they have shown the activities of the tribe. Stories have been written to explain the murals with material gained from numerous texts, encyclopedias, newspaper clippings and books selected from the Kingston City Library, by the members of the Library Club.

A genuine interest in letter writing developed through letters written to the postmaster at Gallup, N. M., the Chamber of Commerce and to the Museum of Navajo Ceremonial Art at Santa Fe, N. M., asking for information on this subject. Letters have also been written to a group of children and their teacher, Mrs. Richardson, who lived near the Nava-Jo Reservation. These children had expressed a desire to correspond with another fourth grade in the United States.

Recently, Chief Young Thunder Cloud from the Oklahoma Reservation, gave a very informative lecture to the children of School 2. He spoke of the activities of the boys and girls from the time of birth until death. He explained the reasons for many of the misconceptions the white men have of the Indians and explained in detail the meaning of the feathers, beads, and clothing which he wore. Prayers are a major factor in the life of the Indian and are used with the songs and dances, some of which he illustrated. The voluntary collection taken helps him to carry his message of interest for the Indian to orphanages and hospitals.

In correlating art and science the sixth grade at School 4 have made many large colored drawings of their native birds.

Miss Schwenck's fifth grade class at School 4 has organized a citizenship club. The purpose of this club is to promote ideas and set examples of good citizenship. At the first meeting Ronald Frangello was elected president.

Miss Agatha Fitzgerald's grade at School 4 is constructing a large mural of New Amsterdam. Prominent features will be the Old Dutch House and the treaty with the Indians by which the Dutch had declared Manhattan Island.

Students Visit Big Gas Plant of Central Hudson

DOG HELD IN BOY'S DEATH GETS REPRIEVE

Donald A. Boucher, five (left), died after, Police Sgt. Ernest A. Stevenson said, the child was bitten by a chained Siberian Husky dog (right), in Portland, Me. school have been studying the scientific characteristics of natural gas as well as the techniques of making and distributing manufactured gas. Central Hudson has assisted in this gas study by providing each science student with a portfolio of illustrated charts showing the history, use and science of gas and by preparing a manual on gas for teacher use.

Of special interest to students and teachers during their tour was discussion by Central Hudson gas engineers of the company's $2,000,000 project to bury natural gas from Texas to Mid-Hudson homes and places of business by the end of this summer. The underground origin of natural gas was described as well as the system of carrying it across the continent by means of high-pressure transmission lines. Engineering problems faced by Central Hudson in building its 40-mile natural gas transmission line from Tuxedo to Poughkeepsie were also discussed. The students watched operation of Central Hudson's mechanical gas generator set which can produce approximately 8 million cubic feet of gas per day. It was explained that when natural gas enters Central Hudson's transmission system the generating set will be converted so that it can be used to supplement natural gas during periods of extremely cold weather and so that it will be available for emergency purposes. During March other groups of high school students from Newburgh, Beacon, Highland Falls, Poughkeepsie and Saugerties are also visiting Central Hudson's Poughkeepsie gas works.

Reading Workshop Held at School 2

Sponsored by the American Childhood Association, a recently formed organization composed of elementary teachers of Kingston, approximately 25 elementary teachers are seeking the answers to problems they encounter in teaching reading, at a reading workshop, which is held each Wednesday in the library of School 2. Attendance is voluntary, and discussion and activities will center around the needs and interests of the teachers attending. The General Planning Committee consisting of Miss Anna Leveya, Miss Mary Folmer, Miss Teresa Lloyd and Miss Adiska Conro is arranging talks by visiting consultants, group discussions on questions raised by the members of the workshop, and a demonstration of the diagnostic and remedial instruments used in the teaching of reading. Attention will also be given to examining new children's books of which there is a sizeable exhibit. Many of the teachers will spend part of their time on individual projects which will be of help to them in their particular classrooms.

At the first meeting, a general introduction to factors influencing reading ability and means of detecting difficulties were presented in a film made by the Warwick Schools in Orange county. Mrs. Frieda Dingee then gave an interesting demonstration of the use of the televisual, an instrument used for detecting muscular eye difficulties which cannot be detected by the Shellen Chart.

A sizeable professional library on reading has been assembled for the use of members and an excellent collection of current reading materials is available for examination.

The informality of the workshop type of organization, where each teacher can find help in solving her individual problems as well as being able to share in interesting group activities should prove stimulating to members.

Window Displays By Retailing Students

Three interesting window displays were arranged this week in Room 153 at Kingston High School by the cooperative retailing students.

One fashion window was arranged by John Ferguson, Robert Goodwin and Kenneth Haggins. The window included stylish blouses, jerseys and spring skirts. Merchandise was obtained through the cooperation of Scott's, Wall Street.

A children's clothing window was arranged by Anne Suski, Rosemary Gerber and John Bergling. The display consisted of spring coats, hats, dresses and shoes. Montgomery Ward assisted by furnishing merchandise.

Another window was arranged by Ronald Deyo, Frank Faloutico and Jack King including men's shirts, ties, the pants clasp belts and socks. Merchandise was furnished through the Sam Bernstein store.

A display of baby furniture was arranged at Kaplan's furniture store this week by students of the retailing two class. Students participating were Ronald Siro, Oscar Dahl and Harry Short who arranged Kroll crib, high chairs, Storkline carriage, Kroll rock and roll play pen and Thayer youth chairs.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

POLAR EXPLORATION, begun nearly 400 years ago, really boomed during the first half of the Twentieth Century. This scene shows the SS North Star in the Antarctica during one of the expeditions of Admiral Richard E. Byrd, famed explorer of both poles. Both the North and South Poles were first beheld by a man during the early years of this century. Admiral Richard E. Byrd is credited with discovering the North Pole, on April 6, 1908. A rival claimant, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, for a while enjoyed world-wide hero worship on the basis of his claims. He was later discredited, and branded as an impostor. Norwegian Roald Amundsen takes credit for having been the first man to see the South Pole, on Dec. 14, 1911. The poles, earth's last frontiers, still tempt explorers.

Manzollillo-Fields Return Bout Heads March 23 Card

German Refugee Pugilist Among Newcomers Due

The city's crowned open champion, the Adirondack A.A.U. German Refugee pugilist, will appear in top bouts on the March 23 card at the Municipal Auditorium on Thursday, March 23. Matchmaker Ben Becker, announced today.

Among the newcomers are popular favorites here—Libby Manzollillo, Harry Smith, Vince Salvo, and Tito Arzuffo, while the German Refugee pugilist, 147-pounder, will make his debut here. This is one of the finest cards ever presented to Kingston boxing fans. Commissioner Becker said, "A couple of these bouts are half as good as they were in the tournament. In fact, the fans will see a lot of action."

Manzollillo is slated in a return engagement with Ray Fields, of the former state champion, who he defeated in a headline bout at the Municipal Auditorium. This should be a sensational battle.

Arzuffo, another close winner in the lightweight class, goes against the aggressive John Harrison of Poughkeepsie, who pinned him hard in the finals in Albany.

Refugee Boxer Due
Harry Smith, the Berkshire fighter, voted the outstanding fighter of the tournament, meets a local contender in Sam Shuff, a German refugee who has been in the country only a little more than a year. Shuff was voted the most aggressive boxer to show in the local gloves.

Among the 112-pound kingpin, Arzuffo, who was defeated by Fredric Katoia, number one in the local tournament, a pair of new fighting entries, McKoy and Miller, could easily steal the show. McKoy and Miller are four years old and a quartet of three, 12-year-olds, will be announced.

A record breaking crowd is expected to jam the Municipal Auditorium to witness the return of Manzollillo, Fields, and the other newcomers. The new welterweight champion, has been matched with Fredric Katoia, number one in the local tournament.

Kingston at Saratoga; Newburgh Plays Here

The paths of tonight's basketball games lead but to a fourth meeting.

That's the way Kingston High and Newburgh Free Academy basketball rosters have tonight's intercollegiate basketball battles dreamed out.

IF Kingston defeats Mont Pleasant in Saratoga Springs, and IF N.E.A. whips Amsterdam High at the local municipal auditorium at 8:30, the DUSO rivals will meet in the finals of the Section 2-9 tournament next Friday night in Saratoga Springs.

The form charts say it won't happen, at least not the Kingston half of the bargain. But Coach G. Warren Kias and a determined band of Maroon players and rooters started the long trek upstate this afternoon confident they can hand the Mont Pleasant powerhouse its first defeat in two years.

Just in case you've forgotten, Kingston was the last team to beat Mont Pleasant.

On the local end, Dick Tyler and company are solid favorites to turn back the Amsterdam challenge. A hard fought battle seems certain but the Goldbacks' tremendous finishing punch is expected to prove the difference between the clubs.

Pep Easy Winner Over Famechon
New York, March 18 (AP)—As long as he doesn't have to fight Sandy Saddler again, Willie Pep will continue to reign over the featherweights for a long time to come.

The little 27-year-old 126-pound champion underdressed that last night when he waltzed to an easy, 15-round title bout victory over Ray Famechon of France, the Wisconsin featherweight king, in Madison Square Garden.

It was a neat, if not gaudy, conquest for the fleet-footed boxer, master from Hartford, Conn., even though many of the 12,106 cash customers let loose with a torrent of boos at the final bell.

The peers were for Willy The Wisp's clutching tactics as well as for the hypnosis of the foreign challenger's attack. Famechon showed a good left hand but he can't hit hard and it's been proved in the past that only a real biter will bother Pep.

"We accepted an offer of a $100,000 guarantee plus the privilege of 40 per cent of the gate to fight Saddler again last of June," said Lou Viscusi, Pep's camp manager. "Saddler was offered $25,000 but Charley Johnston (Saddler's manager) wanted $50,000. The match didn't come off. Well, that's not our fault. We're ready anytime that 100 grand gets posted."

Referee Ruby Goldstein voted it 10-3 with two even. Judge Charley Shortell had it 12-3 and Judge Jack O'Sullivan made it 9-3-3. The Associated Press had Pep the winner, 11-3, with one even. Pep was a 5 to 18 favorite.

Pep received about $21,250. That represented 40 percent of the net gate (the gross take was $67,141) plus $1,000 for television.

Famechon collected $5,050 for his 10 per cent and television cut or just about enough to pay his expenses for the privilege of getting a shot at the title.

Pep weighed 124½, Famechon 125.

Wants A.B.C. Change
Syracuse, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—The president of the State Bowling Association wants his organization to vote for elimination of the "respective" clause from the constitution of the American Bowling Congress. The clause limits membership to "male whites."

Bert Sarno said yesterday he was "in favor of eliminating the much-debated clause. The association will vote at its annual meeting here May 6."

Bowling Roundup

Frank "Boots" Leskie, the old City Baseball League shortstop who turned to bowling in later years, was well on his way to a "700" triple at the end of two games in last night's Classic League session at the Bowlodrome.

The swarthy pinsetter whacked the maples for 224-265 for a 489 double. Needing 211 to reach the coveted goal, he ran into trouble in the third game and finished with 178 for an overall 867.

Other worthy scores included Fred Rice's 627 with 223-212. Joe "Chic" Gup, Schrowang knocked off 202-231-620; Larry Weishaupt 214-580; Bobby Jones (202) and Chris Robinson 209-212-576; Ronnie Mauro 203-570; Angelo Ferraro 211-566.

Frank "Pineapple" Cashara and Joe Heidcamp showed the boys how to do it in the Everybody's League, rapping the maples for 546 apiece. Cashara had high solo of 212 and Heidcamp 207. R. McGee hit 204; Carl Lundquist 202-541; Ken Powell 525; Joe Sangi 510.

Silis whacking the wood for 199-223-188-610, while Jack came up with a 246 solo in the third game and a 592 overall. Joe Singer shot 874 for place money. Other top newscout counts included Arnold Hooey's 201-564; P. Lowy 854; George Magley 222-551; Ralph Dumlenko 216-544; Mill Murray 214-538; Bud Greenburg 201-522; Sheldon Levy 209-522; Ben Sklon 201-517; and P. Altamori 516.

CHICHELSKY'S CHATTER: Kingston will become a bowling hotspot for the duration of the state tournament which opened last night. Tempin dignitaries and newscout counts from all over the state will converge on Kingston.

Marge Jansen and Dot Rawling will work with Reta Frederick as the general committee for the tournament. We will devote most of our next columns to tournament highlights and color. Jo Smith and Helene Mollenhauer will give you all the live news from week to week. Around the wheels: The City Minor, Silver Palace and Tavern Association are tangled up in tight pennant races. Dewey Logan is known as the firecracker of the VanKleeck outfit in the Silver Palace. Intimates now refer to Leo Bechtold as the new "hot rod" of the City Minor. Jimmie's Inn front-running in the Parnaso Classic. Jacobson's Mixed League has one team entered in the state tournament. Johnny Lowe expects to zoom high into the 180s with his new Curval grip. Charlie Manfro claims he will have a powerhouse in the Major next season. (Which Major?) Quiz of the week: What is the highest all-events total ever rolled in any K.B.A. tournament and by whom?

Defeat Bowl-O-Ettes In Playoff Match
Climaxing one of the most amazing stretch drives in local women's bowling history, the Smith Avenue Storage squad has been crowned 1949-50 champions of the Colonial Women's League.

The Smith Avenue kegletes achieved the title by defeating Ferraro's Bowl-O-Ettes in two out of three games of their rolloff for first place Thursday night before a huge crowd at the Bowlodrome. In order to qualify for the rolloff, the Storage quintet had to win three games on closing night, while the Bowl-O-Ettes were dropping three to Suffolk and Scudder in a sensational upset.

Stage Rally
Ferraro's won the opening set Thursday with a 776, the Smith Avenue squad dropping to a mediocre 660. But the eventual champions rallied with respectable scores of 809 and 829 to sweep the next two and the pennant.

The low scoring rolled off the tense duel that took place on alleys 3 and 4. Evelyn Gross was the only bowler to achieve the "500" mark and she hit the mark right on the nose with 129-181-190. Mary Bonacci and Evelyn Francis had 459 apiece; Dot Fleming 447 and Chris Wilson 432 for the winners.

Training Camp News in Brief
(By The Associated Press)
Phoenix, Ariz., March 18 (AP)—Catcher Wes Westrum is regarded as the most improved player on the New York Giants by Manager Leo Durocher.

Westrum has come a long way in the last year, says Durocher. "Whereas he was shy and jittery, uncertain and ill at ease, he's now one of the boys."

West took over as first-string catcher when the Giants sent Walker Cooper to Cincinnati early last season.

Miami, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Pitcher Frank Shea, a disappointment the past two seasons with the New York Yankees, was to face his big test today.

Manager Casey Stengel has made it clear that the pitcher must produce in a hurry—or else. Shea expressed readiness to face the powerful Boston Red Sox today for five innings. Arm trouble and overweight held Shea back in recent seasons.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Manager Bill Shotton is not exactly overjoyed about the status of his Brooklyn starting pitchers with spring training past the halfway mark.

Don Newcombe was well cuffed by the Braves; Ralph Branca was no mystery to the Athletics; Rex Barney was "off" in a camp contest and Procher Roe was unimpressive against Mobile.

The Dodgers won a 10-inning game from the New York Yankees at Miami last night, 5-4. Roe showed improvement working part of the way.

Fights Last Night
New York—Willie Pep, 124½, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Ray Famechon, 125, France, 15. (Title).

Hollywood, Calif.—Bert Mendoza, 165½, Los Angeles, stopped Joe Danos, 161, Denver, 5.

The youngster's dad, James F. Murray, Jr., was an early entrant in the race. Later, petitions were filed by another James Murray, no kin. So James, Jr., filed the short-lived nominating petition for his infant son to show "how preposterous" is what he termed efforts to confuse the voters by entering the other Murray.

room of the net tender March 10. A series of explosions followed. The crew fought the spreading flames and jettisoned the ammunition aboard. All morning and all afternoon they struggled against the fire.

Then Adams ordered 26 of the crew to abandon ship. They put out in the boat and rafts.

The other 14—eleven enlisted men and her three commissioned officers—remained aboard to continue the fire-fighting. They were still tossing ammunition overboard as the 26 pulled away.

"They couldn't go into the engine room," one said, "it was too hot."

There was a lot of three-inch cases, a ammunition floating around," another said.

Unknown to World

Those 14 conquered the fire. They were still mopping the flames and explosion scarred Elder when aid came a week later.

Both the fire and explosions were unknown to the outside world. All that was known was that who had left Hawaii with a load of navigation buoys to be used during the atomic tests and had failed to arrive at Eniwetok.

She was last heard from March 1, about 130 miles north of Johnston Island which is 700 miles from Pearl Harbor.

The only other report came from the Military Transport Gen. A. W. Brewster. The transport said she sighted the Elder Monday and the net tender, was "in no apparent trouble."

The rescue plane and ship began early this week.

Yesterday afternoon, navy search planes spotted the life boat and rafts.

The first terse report came from a pilot, Lt. William Lee Adams of West Palm Beach, Fla. "Condition of survivors exhausted."

Proctor called Cox a "damn good boy" who stood high in his class in studies and military aptitude.

"There was no reason for him to go AWOL and we know of no family or financial difficulties," Proctor said.

He added he felt the mysterious "George" would have come forward by now if he were not indirectly connected with Cox's disappearance.

M.P.s Get Long Terms For Deal With Soviet

Shinburg, Austria, March 18 (AP)—A 12-man U. S. Army court martial sentenced two military policemen yesterday to long prison terms for kidnapping a Romanian-born Austrian and delivering him to Soviet agents for a total of $560.

Cpl. Paul Abel of Bolivar, Mo., was sentenced to 20 years at hard labor and Sgt. John Frankley of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to 15 years.

Both also were ordered dishonorably discharged from the army and to forfeit all pay and allowances.

The court deliberated for two hours and 10 minutes.

The corporal and sergeant were found guilty of abducting Oswald Eder and handing him over to the Russians last November 11. The prosecution described Eder as a mysterious former soldier in the German army who has been suspected by several nations of spying.

Abel and Frankley said they were paid 7,000 schillings (about $280) for the actual kidnapping and also received another 7,000 schillings from the Russians.

U.N. Fears Willie

Lake Success, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—The United Nations, busy protecting the world from war, was protected itself yesterday from Willie the Actor. Armed men swarmed around the world peace headquarters, brandishing Tommy guns and guarding two armored cars bearing an estimated $1,000,000 in payroll cash.

Police were acting on a tip that Willie, a name William Sutton—was due to call. He is wanted as the gang leader who lifted $44,000 from a Queens bank 10 days ago. Willie, now about 50, also is wanted for questioning in the $1,500,000 cash holdup at Brink's in Boston last January—biggest cash robbery in American history.

Missing Cadet Is Believed Slain

West Point, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—A handsome West Point cadet who disappeared mysteriously two months ago on his way to a dinner date, was believed by authorities today to have been slain.

While a nationwide hunt for the cadet continued, Lt. Col. Edwin N. Howell, provost marshal at the U. S. Military Academy, said yesterday:

"I am convinced this is foul play. I'm sure we will not find this man alive."

The cadet, 21-year-old Richard Cox of Mansfield, O., disappeared last January 14 when he left his quarters to keep a dinner appointment on the reservation with a man he referred to as "George."

Since then, scores of officers and enlisted men have combed the 15,000-acre reservation daily without finding any trace of the youth. A New York police helicopter will join the search Tuesday.

Some of the reservation is hilly and thickly wooded and parts of it still are snow-covered.

The army's criminal investigation division, aided by the F.B.I. and state police, has pressed a nationwide hunt for Cox, seeking Cox's former army buddies overseas and other possible leads.

Cox, an army sergeant before he entered West Point in 1948, told fellow-cadets before his disappearance that he had served as an enlisted man in Germany with "George."

Lt. Col. William Proctor, West Point relations officer, said he believed that "Cox has been done in by 'George' or they were both done in by somebody else."

"It is possible that the initial attack took place at West Point and then he (Cox) was spirited away."

Proctor called Cox a "damn good boy" who stood high in his class in studies and military aptitude.

"There was no reason for him to go AWOL and we know of no family or financial difficulties," Proctor said.

He added he felt the mysterious "George" would have come forward by now if he were not indirectly connected with Cox's disappearance.

Predicts Super Weeds

North Platte, Neb., (AP)—Are the new chemical weed killers, such as 2-4-D, in danger of producing a race of "super weeds" which are good but hard to control? It's a question that Glenn Viehmyer, assistant in horticulture at the University of Nebraska's station here, is assuming that a dose of 2-4-D doesn't kill all weeds, then those that survive must be presumed to be possessed of some degree of resistance. Offspring of the weeds with resistance should inherit some of this resistant quality. Repeat the process regularly enough and the weeds eventually will "reach the highest degree of tolerance inherent in the race under treatment," says Viehmyer.

48 Planes on Way

Norfolk, Va., March 18 (AP)—The French aircraft carrier Dixmude sailed today with the first units of a billion-dollar program of military aid for western Europe. ness to organized labor we request that this airport be not used for this purpose. Yerry's telegram to O'Dwyer stated:

"No indication has been given as to whether or not the city will accept the offer of the private airport. Mayor O'Dwyer's reply to Yerry's telegram has not yet been received."

The aerial picket line, if established, will be the first of its kind as far as local union officials know.

According to George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent and president of the Hudson Valley District Council, two or three airplanes are being painted with appropriate signs and will be flown by members of the Liberty carpenters' local.

Yerry said the hotel has been picketed from the ground for three weeks. The issue in dispute involves wage rates offered construction carpenters, he said.

The search for a suitable headquarters for the rain-makers was continued this morning when Dr. Wallace E. Howell, Harvard University scientist, left Kingston to survey Winnisnoke Lodge at the base of Slide Mountain. Yesterday, Dr. Howell announced he had surveyed Overlook Mountain near Woodstock and found it unsuitable.

The Associated Press reported that in Middleburg, N. Y., the Schoharie County Board of Supervisors named a seven-man committee to investigate "all possible effects" of the rain-making experiments on the Catskill mountain county and its people.

"I don't see the weather as an act of God," demanded John Law, a board member of the town of Conesville. "And does New York City have the right to interfere with it?"

Another member J. Walter Blas, of Middleburg, a former State Supreme Court justice, indicated part of the committee's study would deal with possible legal actions, if the tests caused deluges.

Once rain-maker Howell gets his headquarters set up, and his radar at work searching out clouds suitable for triggering, the cloud-seed operations will be used to direct the rain making.

When a promising cloud is found, New York city police department planes will be summoned from Floyd Bennett Field to go to work on it.

These planes will seed the clouds with pellets of dry ice which, it is hoped, will set up a chain reaction and produce rain-falls.

Howell hopes to have his camp site selected before Monday when he is scheduled to be at Floyd Bennett Field and give ground crews instructions on how to prepare the airplanes for this operation.

The young scientist hopes to locate his camp in the vicinity of Esopus Reservoir which he says has almost an unlimited capacity. The Schoharie Reservoir, he said, could be filled in two or three days.

Snec Band Leader

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—Band Leader Cab Calloway's ex-wife sued him yesterday for $3,000 she claims he owes in back alimony and child support payments. Mrs. Wenonah Calloway's Superior Court suit said she obtained a divorce in the New York State Supreme Court last May 20. The decree, her suit said, gave her custody of the Calloway's 12-year-old daughter, Constance, and required Calloway to pay $1,000 monthly in alimony and child support. But since January he has paid only $300 leaving $3,000 owing for January, February and March, the suit said.

McKenney on Bridge

Avoid End Play
By an Opponent

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NKA Service

The runner-up team in the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament this year was Mrs. Helen Sobel, B. Jay Becker and Myron Field of New York and Charles H. Goren of Philadelphia.

Mr. Becker made the most of today's hand with that little trick I have been telling you about all week, the end play. West made the most difficult opening lead for the declarer by playing the six of clubs. The ace won the trick in dummy and Becker immediately started on a cross-ruff. After crushing the ace of hearts and ace of spades, he ruffed three losing spades in dummy and two small hearts in his own hand.

The situation was then as follows. With the lead in the North, dummy held the queen-ten of hearts and the queen-ten-douze of clubs. East held the king of hearts and the king-jack-ten-five of clubs. Becker had the ace-king-jack-eight of trump and the which Becker ruffed with the eight of diamonds, but now he had to lead away from his queen-five-douze of trump into declarer's ace-king-jack—a neatly executed end play.

West could have avoided the end play by trumping his partner's good king of hearts and getting out of his hand with a small club. In that case declarer would have ruffed with the eight of diamonds, cashed the ace and king and conceded the jack, still making five.
